E. C. WALTON

APPELLATE JUDGE E. C. O'REAR in a statement calls on Gov. Willson to convene the General Assembly in special session to consider the county unit bill. He says, if free from entanglements, he believes the bill would pass, because a majority of the people of Kentucky want it and the people should rule. Among other reasons he gives are that it is the greatest public question of the day and it should be settled now to save the State expense. At every session he says this measure comes up and much of the time of the General Assembly is consumed in considering it, delaying other legislation of importance and bringing about a waste of time and money. He says, too, that the present republican administration is committed to pass this measure and it should lose no reasonable opportunity in carrying out its platform promises.

DAMAGES in the sum of $50,000 are asked in a suit filed in the United States Court at Paducah by C. W. Rucker, of Metropolis, Ill., against 210 alleged night riders. The majority of the defendants are residents of Lyon county, and many of them are prominent in Western Kentucky. The plaintiff was Police Judge of Eddyville when he claims the defendants compelled him to walk barefooted to the Cumberland River in his night clothes, where they beat him unmercifully with clubs. $50,000 will be a small reparation for such brutal treatment and we hope Mr. Rucker will get all he asks for and live to see the scoundrels who so roughly handled him wearing the regulation stripes behind prison walls.

A LARGE number of young people in Cleveland have resolved to live for two weeks as Christ would. The movement has assumed a scope far beyond the expectations of its promoters. Fully 10,000 volunteers have officially joined the movement by attempting the test and pledging themselves to walk in His steps. Even city officials are taking an interest, and are ruminating on what Jesus would do if he were a city official.

If John W. Kern, defeated candidate for U. S. Senator from Indiana, is the man we have considered him he will not give out any further statement about his political loss. Frauds may have been committed and pledges broken but Mr. Kern will neither remedy matters nor make himself stronger with the Hoosier democrats by playing the baby act. He should take his defeat like a man.

The officers of the election in each precinct will make and sign a written statement showing the number of votes cast for each and every candidate for office in the precinct, and place said statement in an envelope and deposit it in the ballot boxes.
